

Coburn[®] Legbands

Thank you for your order of the new-style Coburn legband. This redesigned legband is stronger, with a more positive latch when placed on the animal's leg. Nonetheless, it retains the high degree of markability and weather resistance you have come to expect from Coburn legbands.

To apply the legband

Dip the band in a tub of water to make the band slide easily into the buckle. Plain water is good, but soapy water is even better.

To mark the legband

To write on the legband, first wipe the band with rubbing alcohol, let dry, and mark the legband with an appropriate marker. Allow the writing to dry overnight if possible.
