

Udder Singe

Udder Singe is the safe and painless way to remove hair from udders and bellies. Hair can trap dirt and manure, making a perfect environment for bacteria and adversely affecting milk quality. Cleaner udders can help shorten prep time, reduce mastitis, and lower bacteria counts including somatic cell, bacteria and coliform. Singeing is recommended by veterinarians and dairy scientists to improve dairy sanitation. Udder Singe connects to a standard propane tank (not included) and produces a low-temperature flame. Hair is eliminated with a quick pass of the wand without causing any discomfort to the cow. Udder Singe includes wand, hose, connector, valve, regulator, striker, and heat resistant glove.
